RECLAIMED FURNITURE

When you purchase a piece of our furniture you are buying something that is unique.

Our supplier in Asia buys old doors from local villagers. Every day there is a steady stream of people coming to the workshops to drop off doors. Our supplier accepts the wood and the villagers receive money to update their own homes. Some doors are small and plain, others are large and ornate. They are all mellowed with age and carry the marks of a long and useful life.

Our reclaimed ranges are fashioned from these old doors and other wooden pieces from old buildings. The wood has been recycled and skilfully repurposed into something new and beautiful using traditional carpentry methods. This is why you see small cracks along the grain, markings, blocking that replaces what were once holes and other variations in the surface. The wood in this furniture has already stood the test of time, and it displays the textures and depth that only come with age. The metal elements are specially hand-forged from iron for us by a master blacksmith.

This ensures that each piece is one of a kind and unlike any other.
